WHAT IS IT?

The Altona Historical Society recently brought up the question of the old war memorial down at Cresser Reserve and its disgusting condition.

The Star this week investigated and found out the facts; it is in a disgusting condition.

Any connection with either war, or the soldiers who defended this country has been stripped from the eight-foot high ex-drinking fountain.

Rotting wood, dog droppings and badly cast concrete are all that remain as a gaping nameless reminder.

Originally it is believed to have been donated by the widows of the soldiers who lost their lives and the citizens of Altona, and stood as a drinking fountain cum memorial at the end of the pier, on the Esplanade.

Eventually it healed over with the drifting sands and was unceremoniously dumped in the council yard, until action from Mr. Bill Draper the secretary of the Altona RSL pressured for it to be reinstated.

It was, at Cresser Reserve.

As far as we have been able to determine, it has lain there for between seven and nine years, plonked without as much as thank you scribbled in chalk on the side.

Mr. Draper said the council had promised to "fix it up."

Town Clerk, Mr. Waters, said that it was no longer regarded as the official war memorial.

He said he expected eventually it might be returned to a drinking fountain.

Until then, in his words it will be an "historical landmark."

Staff reporter, Gary Smith examines the monument. It has been stripped of any indication of what it is. Only rotting wood, dog droppings and badly cast concrete remain.

NEW MAYOR INVESTED

Retiring Mayor (Cr. Doug Grant) officially handed over his robe and his chain of office to the incoming Mayor (Cr. P. J. Lynch) at a ceremony in the Civic Offices last Thursday.

All Altona councillors were in attendance for the ceremony, at which Cr. Lynch was escorted by past mayors, W. L. J. Crofts and P. A. Burns, into the council chambers.

In the chamber, he was handed his robes and chair of office by Cr. Grant, assisted by Mr. Alec Knight, MLC (above).

The past mayoress, Mrs. Lola Grant, handed over to Mrs. Bridie Lynch.

Later the keys of the mayoral car and the gavel of office were handed to Cr. Lynch.

The ceremony was also attended by many of Cr. Lynch's friends and council workers.

Cr. Lynch has held the portfolio of educational activities and chaired the general purposes meetings so far this year.

He has also represented Cr. Grant at functions during the year in his position as deputy mayor.

In making his acceptance speech he said, "I feel very happy and indeed, very humble that my wife and I have been elected Mayor and Mayoress of our City. 'My sincere thanks I would extend to the ratepayers of the City, who have made this possible. My second word of thanks is to my colleagues in Council for the confidence they have shown in me in electing me to this very high office."

"I have been asked at different times what my policy is for the year. Well, my policy for the next twelve months is indeed very similar to that of the past few years."

"A dedication to the position we hold as councillors, and a team-work effort by all Councillors to continue Altona's progress."

"We are very fortunate, I must say, only a few short years ago I was the only green one perhaps, coming from Ireland, but there were many of us rather amateurish in regards to council curriculum when we were elected to Council."

"But this morning, we have three ex-Mayors of the City as members of Council and most other Councillors have served at least a three year term — so no one can say there isn't an abundance of experience around the Council table, to carry out the duties of this City."

"At the end of my Mayoral year, taking quite a jump from my previous comments, please God, I should look back on the year's achievements and give a resume on what took place during that twelve months and I am quite confident that I will be able to relay Altona's progress not only maintained, but accelerated."

"I am very happy indeed to see so many people present in the Chamber this morning and a very warm welcome to you, which I have extended already this morning. Mr. Alex Knight, we know you are committed with Parliament; indeed, for the benefit of those who are not from our City, the Hon. Alex Knight and I spent about three and a half — four hours together last Saturday, handing out 'How to Vote' cards."

"I was handing for one crowd and the Hon. Alex Knight for the other, toe to toe for about three and a half hours."

"We are here this morning side by side, doing our little thing for the ratepayers of the city."

"This is indeed democracy in motion and long may it remain."

"I am very pleased to welcome so many friends who have come a long way this morning, considering the meeting started so early, friends as far away as Warrnambool, Greensborough, Pascoe Vale — I'll just have another quick look — Bentleigh or East Bentleigh and from many areas around Melbourne."

"The Mayoress and I assure you and the ratepayers of the City that the office that we hold will be carried out with dignity and decorum, whether it be in the City of Altona or outside the City on Council business."

Cr. and Mrs. Lynch have lived in the area for some 18 years.

Both were born in Ireland. They are actively associated with St. Leo's and Mrs. Lynch is a member of the parish council.

This week they stepped into official duties quickly. They opened the lawn bowling season at the Altona Working Men's Club and the Altona Bowling Club.

He also attended and chaired the local meeting of the Hobsons Bay Dog Obedience Club at the weekend.

Also present at the ceremony last Thursday were all Altona councillors to watch the investiture.

Mayor Lynch has held the portfolio of Educational Activities in council.

He is married with two children.

On Monday "The Age" publishes a special four-page lift-out called "The Age of Science" which has been especially designed by Victoria's top education experts to help parents, pupils and teachers to discover the new things about Primary science today.

What are your children learning? How can you help them? What should they do outside the classroom? Now competent should they be? What is the new approach to learning science at an early age?

All these questions are answered in "The Age's" special four-page lift-out. "The Age of Science" — free with "The Age" on Monday, September 13.

STAR GAZE

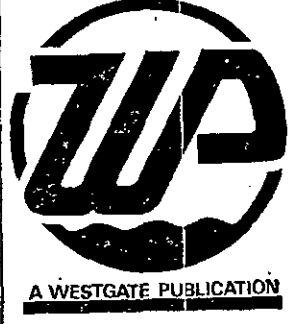

Photographer Col Barnard and I had an embarrassing experience recently. While visiting the Altona kindergarten in Blyth Street, one of the teachers, Mrs. Spacek, offered us a child's jigsaw puzzle to fill in time. Half an hour later we were still trying to finish it. Mrs. Spacek helped us. Luckily the kids didn't notice.

An amazing fact was revealed in a recent council medical check. Almost one in 10 of all children at Altona's Blyth Street kindergarten had knock knees!

At a meeting prior to the Altona council elections, town clerk Jim Waters quipped, "when filling out the voting cards, please no kisses and no crossouts."

By their popularity, Altona could be having a visit from the Customs and Excise men soon. The new health food shop in Railway Street, Altona has a popular line, all the equipment for the making of beer. Kits are cheap and selling like wildfire.

There's been no more progress on the Lewis Construction move to establish a shopping mart on the site of the old quarry in Millers Road. On the other hand the town has seen two new businesses open this week, Aquarius Employment and the new health food shop. We wish the owners well in their new shops.

and rejoin Eagle at Perth.

"WHAT AREAS, MR HAMER?"

A letter of comment on the speech made recently by Mr. Hamer, the deputy premier, on the western suburbs is commented on by an irate ratepayer.

The letter reads: After reading an article stating that Mr. Hamer, now Deputy Premier of Victoria, "Admires Altona" I am at a loss to know what areas Mr. Hamer visited when he visited our City.

One area he did not visit for sure is the rear laneway of the shopping block on Civic Parade near the junction of Millers Road.

For the past three years,
piles of decaying foodstuffs, septic tank overflows and numerous piles of rubbish have given off a nauseating smell to all the residents in nearby streets.

Surely from such a civic minded group of councillors at least one could visit this area and then report his findings to the City Health Department (if we have one).

Then most likely we will see this area cleaned up and the fear of hepatitis and other diseases may disappear from our city.

Mr. Hamer may even give them a printed certificate.

Yours etc.,
"Irate Ratepayer".

Adult education scheme coming

The Council for Adult Education is planning to open a centre for evening classes at the Laverton High School next year.

The programme will cater for a wide variety of interests such as current affairs, literature, languages, parent education, interior decorating, gardening and craft activities.

The range of courses will ultimately depend on the council's ability to attract students and teachers.

The director of the course is Mr. Warwick
Fox, who will be pleased to hear from anyone interested in the classes. He may be contacted on

Other office bearers elected were Mrs. G. McDonald, vice-president, Mrs. C. McGraw, secretary, Mrs. L. Weaver, assistant secretary, Mrs. D. Hagan, treasurer.

The committee is Mrs. J. Crofts, Mrs. D. Shaw and Mrs. W. Verlander.

HOPE STILL FOR OLD HOME

The National Trust hopes legislation will be changed to prevent a historical building in Williamstown being ripped down.

The building, Cox's Gardens, has been condemned, the trust's latest news-letter states.

It says the trust's legal advisers had made detailed studies of the situation.

It was now hoped existing legislation could be amended to allow the building to remain.

The trust considers Cox's Gardens is an important early building in Australian history.

CR. IAN STEWART THANKS VOTERS

The Star this week received a letter from Councillor Ian Stewart, who was returned to council in a recent election.

Editor, — Through the pages of your paper I should like to take this opportunity of expressing sincerest appreciation to the many folk of Altona, who, by virtue of their votes at the recent election, indicated confidence in the council as it has been constituted over the past few years.

This election had particular significance for myself as I had taken my place in the Council Chamber unopposed and therefore had no real way of knowing whether or not the people of our city wished me to be their council representative.

The results have moved me very deeply, and also given me a greater feeling of personal confidence — I look forward to the next three years and will endeavor in every way of continue serving the citizens of Altona to the best of my ability.

CIGARETTE PACKET HOAX REKINDLED

The hoax about saving cigarette packets has flared again in this area.

The hoax, an old perennial, is spread by rumor.

Latest "charity benefiting" is the Spastic Children's Society.

The story is that anyone who saves quantities of Benson & Hedges cigarette packets will earn a big donation for the society.

Many who have not previously heard of the hoax are dismayed when they send large quantities of packets to W. D. & H. O. Wills only to learn that no such scheme is operating.

"I saved 500 packets because I am genuinely interested in the work of the society and was shattered to learn that the collection story is only a trick," one district woman related.

Another woman canvassed all her cigarette-smoking friends to switch to the brand in question and finished with hundreds of packets.

"Something should be done to stop this sort of thing," she said.

A spokesman for the company stated that the only thing which could be done was for the company to get as much publicity as possible for denials about the "scheme".

These were published widely whenever the collection rumors broke out, usually at least twice a year.

Theatre audition

There will be an audition for aspiring actors and actresses from the western suburbs at the Salvation Army Hall, Stevedore Street, Williamstown on September 13 at 7 p.m.

"Action Theatre 72" will be formed on the night and a full acting course is offered at just $2 a year.

The theatre plans to stage Australian plays exclusively.

People with acting, singing, dancing, production and writing ability or ambition are invited to come.

Rehearsals will take place on Monday nights.

The theatre is looking for a disused warehouse or spare shed to rent at a reasonable price.

Those who can assist are invited to discuss the matter with Mr. John Davis on the night.

Experience is not needed and people who have never walked on boards will be able to give a competent performance within six weeks.

Sand castlers

Brother and sister Angelo and Annie Ghirxi, of St. Albans, visited Altona beach during the school holidays to practice their sandcastle building.

Angelo, 11, said he would prefer to be at school with his mates.

"After all," he said "sandcastles are for kids".

Hello Girls, — Femininity is a girl's greatest asset — and as fragrance adds a special something to feminine allure, perfume should become part of her daily grooming routine — and NOT just for special occasions.

"What scent should I wear?" is a very common question. Let your nose be your guide, as the choice of a fragrance is a very personal matter. Just because you like your friends' perfume, doesn't mean it is perfect for you too.

Your body chemistry is totally different from hers and so is your personality, therefore so will be your perfume choice.

There are just so many to choose from that the business of selection can be bewildering.

Be in a light hearted mood before deciding to buy. Have time; what do you prefer — a cologne, creamy, cream spray or a concentrate? There are others. The secret is only to try three fragrances at a time your smell buds get confused after this.

Put a little on each wrist, then if still undecided go and do some messages. In 10 to 20 minutes, the fragrance will have blended with your own skin oils and then you will be able to judge which is your first preference.

Most perfumes are too expensive to buy wrongly. If you don't like it now, probably you never will.

There are seven basic fragrance categories, girls. Firstly, you have the single floral, featuring a single scent such as rose, gardenia. Then there are floral bouquets, which as the name implies, are a blend of several flowers.

Next are spicy aromas, which are piquantly reminiscent of spices such as cloves, cinnamon or ginger. The woody fragrances are unmistakably wood moss and fern.

Others are oriental blends which are usually heavy and exotic.

Fruity fragrances are going to be popular this summer, lemon, lime, etc.

Finally, ever popular, are the modern blends of a mixture of a little of everything.

Just having one perfume can be monotonous, over several weeks, buy yourself two, ready for all moods and occasions. No need to stop there either.

Girls, Revlon special again. Large size under make-up base — a limited stock.

'MANY ON BAY PIPELINE BANDWAGON'

Many people are getting on the bandwagon over the proposed ethane pipeline to go under Port Phillip Bay because it is fashionable, Mr. W. L. Floyd (Williamstown) declared in the Legislative Assembly.

Referring to "ultra-conservationists" Mr. Floyd commented: "Our vision should not be obscured in considering the views of people who genuinely do not want this pipeline."

Mr. Floyd asked the Chief Secretary to inform him as to whether the Fisheries and Wildlife Branch is working on a survey of the Bay.

"If so, how long have those concerned been on the job and do they intend bringing out an interim report?" Mr. Floyd asked, adding, "If not, why not; and do they intend finally to produce a report for all the members?"

The Chief Secretary (Mr. Hamer) replied that the fisheries branch had been engaged in an ecological survey of the Bay for upwards of a year — "probably nearly two years now" — in conjunction with the Board of Works.

"I understand that that survey will require at least another year and possibly more to complete. So far as I am aware it is not proposed to bring out any interim report."

"In fact, I do not know that any interim report would be entirely appropriate, because most of the study depends upon the making of comparisons of reading of various types of the waters of the Bay and other ecological data over a period."

"It will make inquiries to see whether any form of interim report would be appropriate. In the meantime, the survey is continuing and we expect results in about a year or two," Mr. Hamer added.

Mr. Floyd stated that his remarks related to the Minister for Fuel and Power (Mr. Balfour) with some slight side issues concerning the Chief Secretary.

"A considerable amount of heat has been generated over the proposed pipeline from Brighton to Williamstown."

"Although many people are getting on the bandwagon because it is fashionable, our consideration of any genuine attempt to prevent something which may be harmful to the Bay must not be impeded."

Mr. Floyd said that the matter of a survey "has been shrouded in mystery and nobody seems to know anything about it."

"Coincidentally, in his Budget speech, the Premier mentioned that the branch was studying the chemical contents of the Bay and that, in a couple of years, it was proposed to make a study of the ecology."

"I make a plea to the Minister for Fuel and Power not to agree to the pipeline construction before a report is received from the fisheries branch indicating whether the scheme is right or wrong," the member declared.

"The ecologists and ultra-conservationists seem to get in the way, but just because many people are jumping on the bandwagon our vision should not be obscured in considering the views of people who genuinely do not want this pipeline."

Mr. Floyd said the survey had been going on for two years, and the genuine people must have some reason to believe there is something wrong with the proposal.

"I do not know why they are objecting, but they are entitled to the privilege of the results of the survey to see whether the project can proceed without detriment to the Bay."

Mr. Balfour replied that many inquiries were made by the Government when the pipeline was under consideration.

Mr. Butcher, head of the fisheries branch, as assumed the Government that construction of the line would do no harm to the Bay.

The Government had always been interested in problems associated with the bay.

Dr. Doube: You allowed the scallops to be fished out.

Mr. Falfour: "That may be so, but the branch was responsible for the discovery of the scallops and every endeavor is being made to locate other scallop beds."

"As the State Electricity Commission is contemplating the erection of a new power station at Newport and the possible piping of some warm water into the Bay, it will contribute $250,000 towards the cost of the experiments being conducted by the Fisheries and Wildlife Branch."

"The investigation will be of continuing importance in determining what happens in the Bay and what are the effects of various drains, the Yarra River itself, and everything else that enters the Bay."

"The Government has adequate evidence to suggest that the construction of the trench and the laying of the pipeline will have absolutely no effect on the ecology of Port Phillip Bay."

THEFT FROM TRUCK

Mr. James Lower, of Devon Road, Williamstown, parked his tray truck for 15 minutes near the entrance of Barkly bottle yard in Railway Place.

When he returned he discovered that someone had taken his money bag from the cabin of the truck, and with it went between $70 and $90.

Williamstown detectives are investigating the theft.

MAN ALLEGED ASSAULT

Mr. William Gilmore, a painter, told police last week he was assaulted when he parked his car near shops in Vernon Street.

in his car with a man friend when a man opened the door and hit him several times and then hit his friend.

Mr. Gilmore claimed there was no provocation. Williamstown detectives are dealing with the matter.

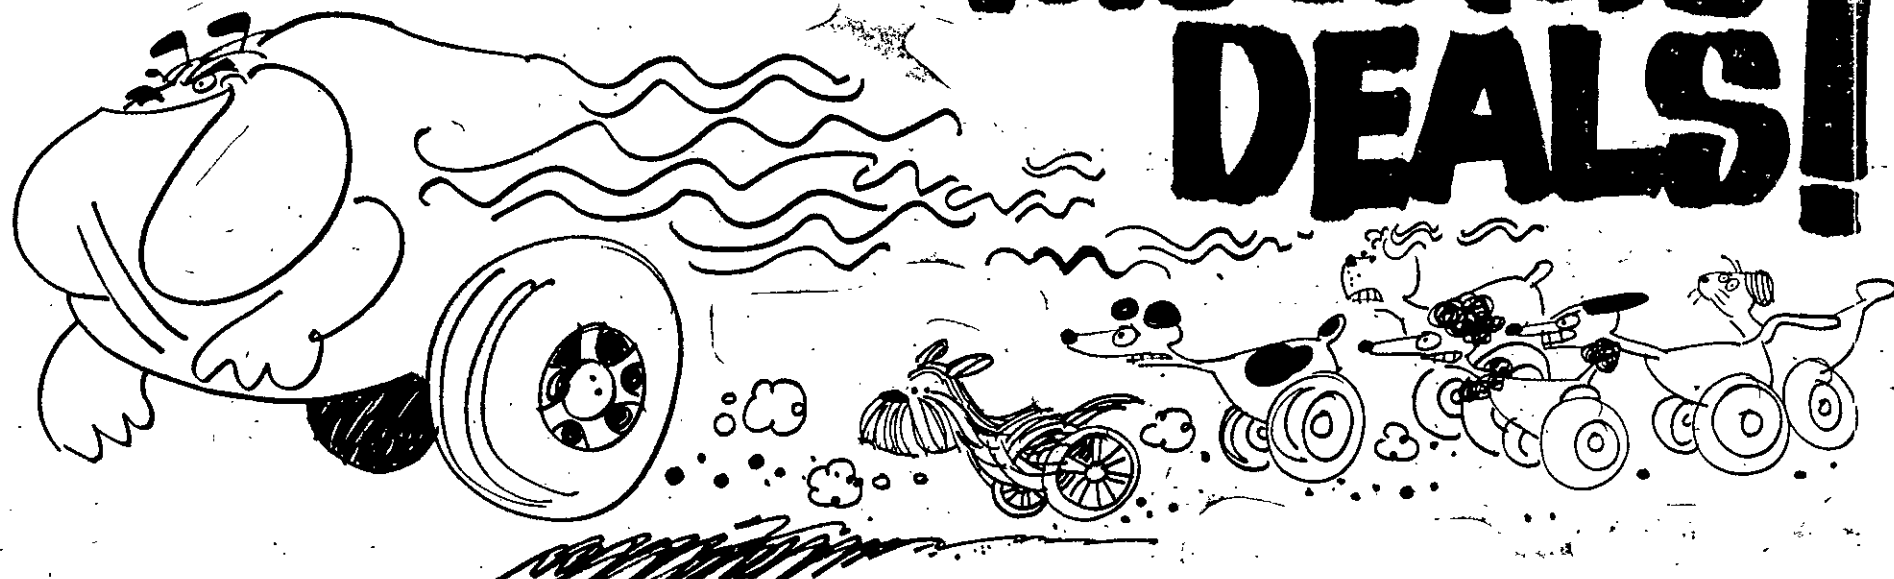

NEW RAIL NUMBER

The Victorian Railways main telephone number — 62 0311 — will be changed from May next year.

The new number will be 61001. The change had been made necessary because of limitations on the group of lines operating the old number, a railways spokesman said yesterday.

ACTION THEATRE 72
formation meeting to be held 7.30 p.m. Monday the 30th September.
Salvation Army Hall,
Stevedore Street, Williamstown.
Persons interested in all aspects of theatre are invited to attend. The policy of this new exciting company will be to embrace Australian original work.

Is a star being born?

Large-scale community productions are envisaged by actor-producer Mr. John Hattam-Davies, when he inaugurates his Action Theatre 72 at the Williamstown Salvation Army Hall this Wednesday night.

Davies, a media man with 3XY, played Telenovela recently, in a successful production of The Knack with the Williamstown Little Theatre.

Action Theatre hopes to break away from the traditional idea of little theatre to put on more experimental productions with younger people in all types of productions.

Davies is looking for any age people, who are interested in theatre, who know little or nothing, preferably nothing, and are prepared to listen.

The theatre will begin with a number of workshop-like forums, where different aspects of theatre will be discussed and taught.

Minimal charge

Despite the fact that experts in their field will be teaching, a minimal charge will be levied to cover costs.

The classes themselves will include voice production, deportment, stage technique, choreography, stage management, lighting and sound transmission.

Principal teacher will be Hattam-Davies, who has had wide experience in all fields overseas.

Before he migrated from England, some four years back, he featured in many productions as an actor in Z. Cars, Maigret, Comedy Playhouse and many others.

Experimental

Disappointed with acting standards and theatre in Australia he chooses to go it alone and try experimental theatre, which is all the rage overseas.

He has been negotiating for Jesus Christ Superstar, the rock mass.

Unfortunately the show was bought by entrepreneur Harry Miller.

More recently he has been negotiating with Australian writers for the rights of new plays and musicals.

Some have impressed him by their raw artistic excellence.

Author

While being interviewed this week he mentions that he would be interested in looking at scripts written by local amateurs.

Another principal is Williamstown author, Eric Reade, who has recently completed his second book on the Australian movie industry.

Eric is in charge of the scripting side.

On the sound production and electronic side of the theatre is Brian Newington, the production manager of a Melbourne radio station.

To him will fall the task of training the more electronically minded students.

The theatre is bold in concept. It could, quite easily fall flat with all the usual actors, and stage crew supporting it.

But being ambitious is no crime.

The group will visit

John Hattam-Davies, a man who has acted in television and films overseas.

He will launch this week into Action Theatre 72, a workshop like theatre group to train people in Williamstown and Altona in all facets of theatre.

schools and inform them first hand what they hope to do.

It could give the area, Altona, Williamstown, Newport, perhaps even Footscray, the cultural lift its been looking for and needing.

So if you are interested in any part of the theatre, acting, production, management, or would like to be the girl who takes the bookings contact Eric Reade, John Hattam-Davies or the Altona Star

The numbers are Eric Reade 63 2647, John Hattam-Davies on 347 5222 or the Star 398 2277.

LEAVING SCHOOL ?

At the end of this year some 40,000 students are expected to leave school for their first year of work.

Equipped with a variety of educational backgrounds they are being guided by the teachers, parents, and the Commonwealth Employment office into what they hope are the right jobs.

BRIDGE REPORT COULD GIVE "ALL CLEAR"

A preliminary report on plans to complete the Westgate Bridge may be made today, Wednesday, Sept. 8

The report will be made to the Lower Yarra Crossing Authority by the recently appointed engineering directorate for the bridge.

Steel work on the bridge has been suspended since a span collapsed on October 15 last year, killing 35 men.

Fabrication work is being done off the site in factories, but nothing has been done on the bridge pending the report from the engineers.

The leader, Dr. W. A. Fairhurst, said last week: "We are engaged in a mass of calculations and analysing and this work is continuing."

"We are meeting the authority's technical committee on September 8 and there will be a preliminary report then."

Dr. Fairhurst said that at that stage he could not say if today's report would result in a return to work. Information was being sought from many sources and it would be foolish to jump to conclusions, he said.

The joint manager for Redpath, Dorman-Long, John Holland joint construction venture, Mr. J. Williams, said some piles had to be driven in on the western side.

But they would have to wait until advice was given to proceed.

THE CURTAIN RISES

BY THISBE

House managers at Williamstown Little Theatre have to be versatile.

They are called upon to keep out uninvited visitors discreetly, act as a link between front of house and backstage staff and to make sure the theatre's public image is well kept.

But they have an extra duty, which is not written down anywhere.

Sometimes they have to fill in minor roles in a play.

House managers, Ivor Porter and Doug Lownds are joining stage manager Laurie Gellon in bringing the criminals to justice during some tense moments in Wait Until Dark.

Fate plays some strange tricks to Ivor Porter and Lorraine West.

In the 1951 production of Deliver My Darling Ivor Porter played Lorraine West's blind husband and in Wait Until Dark Lorraine is playing someone else's blind wife, while Ivor plays a policeman.

Wait Until Dark will continue until Saturday, September 18.

The play which will leave a deep impression on all those who pluck up the courage to see it.

It's thrilling, it's menacing at times, but it's fun.

BUTCHERS' SHOP BROKEN INTO

Thieves who broke into the Butchers' Union shop at Newport Freezing Works one night last week stole $200 in silver coins and meat to the value of $60.

They took hams, T-bone steaks, bacon and chops.

Two half pigs were also found next day in the car park.

The premises were left locked and intact at the end of the day. But during the night the thieves broke the shop's window to get in.

CAR STOLEN

Williamstown detectives are checking on a car taken from Elizabeth Street, Newport, one night last week.

The car, a Holden, belonged to Mr. Graeme Franklin, a builder.

Reply to a clergyman

Mrs. Vera Wells writes to us this week with a comment on the recent story The Rev. Lawley V. The Council in the last edition of the Star.

While I sympathise with the Rev. John Lawley in his campaign to have knocks, because of his worries about the poverty overseas, I am happy to see that as yet, the council has decided against the idea of door knocks.

It is a sad thing that some overseas nations have to have people begging but, I don't think that should condone any group of people, however well meaning, to do their begging for them here.

I know that sounds harsh, but, lets face the facts, door knocking is just simple begging.

If anything, I think it is also the laziest way to raise money for charity, very little effort is needed in comparison to the way money was raised for charity in the old days.

If someone came to my door selling tickets for a dance to be run for the local teenagers, proceeds to charity, I would gladly buy one.

Instead of my money just going out of the country, I would be able to see it doing good in my own city.

A good dance is badly needed here, and until it is supplied, to assist our teens to amuse themselves sensibly, not one older person can cluck disapprovingly at what they do now.

Also the money raised could be well spent in the central Australian area, I'm sure, after reading of hospital conditions and death rates of our Australian Aboriginal children.

I would also like to add, Mr. Editor, that I hope your reporter of Mr. Lawley's last application being considered by the council, did not, in his concluding reference to smiles by two councillors, imply a sneer at a man who is trying to help others.

Display by schoolboys

Altona North Technical School Pupils are putting on a display of copper and bronze at the Melbourne Show.

The display, which has been made in sheet metal to do more and to show work classes, will appear in the schools' section of the Show.

The school's headmaster, Mr. R. McInnes, is thrilled that boys from the school will be exhibiting at the Show.

He says that it is a great

GOOD CROWDS FOR TENNIS FINALS

Despite unfavorable weather Western Suburbs Tennis Association school childrens' tournament was a huge success.

Played in ideal surroundings at the Sunshine Park VRI courts, children from the western suburbs competed in events ranging in age groups from under 19 years down to under 14.

Jan Rowland, last year's champion, was again successful and paired with Kerry Rusden to win the doubles.

Alan Jones was a treble winner, taking out the Under-19 boys' singles, the doubles with Peter Onofretchok and the mixed doubles with Maree Cronolly.

The Whitecross brothers from Altona Club had a good tournament.

Stephen won four trophies and Greg two. Almost equal were Gwendoline and Julie White.

Gwendoline won four events including a doubles with Julie.

Mrs. Glad Howden and a band of hard working ladies provided lunches at a canteen, and Mrs. Norma Crear was a tower of strength organising the matches.

Western Suburbs new president Mr. Orm Howden presented the trophies. He suitably thanked all those who helped and praised the children for competing in a true sportsman-like manner.

DOG TRIAL SUCCESS FOR ALTONA

Saturday and Sunday were big days for the Hobsons Bay Obedience Dog Club last weekend.

On Saturday night the club held their tenth annual dinner at the Port Melbourne Town Hall.

On Sunday the club's open dog trial was held at the Altona Hockey Grounds on Civic Parade. It was opened by the new mayor of Altona, Cr. Pat Lynch.

There were ninety entrants on the day, many from interstate.

The trophy for the highest scoring Victorian dog went to an owner from Geelong.

The trophy for the highest scoring dog at the trial went to a seventeen-year-old boy from New South Wales.

Through The Star the club wishes to thank Mayor Lynch and the Altona Hockey Club for the help in making the trial the success it was.

There will be normal training at the hockey grounds from 10 to 11 a.m. next Sunday morning.

Anyone requiring further information please ring Mrs. P. Murphy at 398 1685 or Mr. S. Ashman on 398 2364.

The Sydney boys visited Sovereign Hill at Ballarat and the Newport power station whilst they were billeted with Westgate.

Eastwood won the Veteran Boots Trophy for competition between teams composed of the officials of the touring and billeting teams.

1971 AUSTRALIAN UNDER 16 CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Three Altona North boys played for Victoria in Sydney.

They were Donald Mills, James McKendrick and Andrew East played as forwards
